Eligibility. All members of the Board of Directors must physically reside, and be a registered voter in Alaska with the express intent to remain indefinitely, as defined by Alaska Statute 01.10.055 and 15 Alaska Administrative Code 23.143. Should a board member relocate outside Alaska and plan to return as a resident defined by law, a notarized affidavit must remain on file attesting to such plans of returning, otherwise the position will be vacated and replaced with an eligible person.

Section 2.1. Extenuating Circumstances. Should a board member who is an Alaska Resident be forced to temporarily relocate out of state due to conditions outside their immediate control, a certified letter carefully describing the situation must be presented. Upon receipt of the letter, an emergency board meeting shall be called within ten (10) days of receipt. This meeting shall be called to deliberate on the letter's authenticity. At a minimum, the certified letter must satisfy the following conditions:

- a.) The board member is a legally established Alaska resident as defined by state law, or has valid and verifiable ties to the state;
- b.) The board member has clearly presented their situation that requires temporary relocation beyond their control;
- c.) The board member has provided satisfactory evidence of their intent to return to Alaska within a reasonable period of time;
- d.) The letter has been certified by an individual of competent jurisdiction within the United States.

The emergency board meeting will carefully review all aforementioned items listed above for completeness and clarity. Should there be a request for additional information, the board member in question shall furnish any missing details to the board within ten (10) working days. If the letter satisfies the need for an emergency meeting under this section, an initial decision on the circumstances shall be made. A temporary approval of 90 days shall be given by unanimous approval of the board and issued in the form of a board resolution, not more than five (5) working days after the decision being made.

Section 2.2. Extended leave of absence. As prescribed in Section 2.1 above, a board member who is an Alaska resident may be forced to extend their leave of absence from the state for reasons outside the direct control of the person directly affected. Additional documentation shall be required and contain the following items, at a minimum:

- a.) The board member is a legally established Alaska resident as defined by state law, or has valid and verifiable ties to the state;
